TOWN COUNCIL HELD REGULAR MEETING

Tuesday night Mayor Shrimpton had a full parade of every member of the Council, and every man was in his place when Secretary-Treasurer Wears called "Time", Councillor Bailey having arrived at the head of the "Light Brigade" at the last moment.

The minutes were read, and upon motion, confirmed.

The applications for the position of Junior were very carefully read, and due consideration given to the pedigree and qualifications of each one, resulting in the appointment of G. H. Bunting to the position.

The Power Company, which supplies the street lighting, apparently was absent minded, and while they had made out the last month's electric light bills for the town consumers at the new rates, they inadvertently had overlooked the new rate for the Town, and presented an account for $150, which was the old rate on the law.

Secretary-Treasurer Wears got his "eagle eye" on the document and the Power Co. had no more chance of getting away with it than a snow ball would have in hades.

The Mayor and the secretary did some rapid calculating, and decided that the Company were now working on the new contract and that they were furnishing only thirty lights, and that at three dollars per light this amounts to $90.00, plus $15 service charge for electric meter, would make, $105 instead of $150.

The Mayor and Secretary certainly overlooked in their adjustment that they should also have deducted for the nights that no service was furnished. These people have not given any evidence of wanting to meet the town half way, and are not deserving of any special consideration.

The Mayor, Councillors, Haden and Quinn were appointed a committee to make a survey of the town in regard to best locations for the extra lights. The attention of Chief McFarland will be drawn to the matter of a broken pipe at the pump house.

A motion was passed refunding the sum of $120.00 taxes paid by the Sacred Heart Church.

The Secretary-Treasurer reported that all but four of the minimum school taxes have been paid, and the balance will now be used to collect from those in arrears.

Current accounts amounting to about $155 were referred to the finance committee for payment.

Council adjourned at 9:10 p.m.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish, on behalf of myself and family to express my thanks to all our friends for their kindness during the illness of my wife, for the many floral tributes to the pallbearers, and the Rev. J. N. Wilkinson.

WILLIAM SAAR

U. F. A. MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Strathmore Local U. F. A. No. 58, will be held at the Memorial Hall on Saturday, December 15, at 3 p.m., when election of officers, for the coming year will be held.

W. E. SPRINGTHORPE, Secretary

THE KAUTZ-BRAND CALGARY WEDDING

Kautz — Brand

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Trocadero on December 1st, at 2 o'clock, when Nancy, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Brand, of Dalehead, became the bride of Mr. Henry Kautz, of Ivanhoe, Ontario.

The bride entered the church in the arm of her father.

The bride was charmingly gown in silver and hooped skirt of white tulle covered over with lace. She wore a lovely veil, beautifully embroidered, which was arranged in a fan shape at the back, and held in place by a bandeau of orange blossoms. Her only jewelry being a cluster of pearls. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Marjorie Gosling, Miss Peggy Chalmers, Miss Hazel Kautz and Miss Lilian Kautz, all from Dalehead. They wore new gowns trimmed with silver lace and small silver and gold metallic hats, and carried bouquets of pale pink carnations tied with mauve ribbons.

George Kautz supported the groom. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Empress Grill, where the bride's mother received the guests in a gorgeous gown and a silver colored veil.

The table was pleasantly arranged, centred with a three-tier wedding cake, beautifully decorated.

The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Brand, Dalehead, Messrs. Ben Goff and Ben Brand, Dalehead, Miss Elsie Kautz, Rosebud, Mr. George Kautz, Dalehead, Mr. and Mrs. E. Buzzard, Rosebud, Mr. and Mrs. E. Woolrich, Calgary, Misses Lillian and Hazel Kautz, Dalehead, Mrs. Karp and Johnnie, Chinook, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gosling, Dalehead, Messrs. William and Raymond Gosling, Dalehead, Miss Marjorie Gosling, Dalehead, Miss Peggy Chalmers, Dalehead, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chalmers, Dalehead, Miss Carrie Duncan, Calgary, Mr. J. Stanley, Rosebud, Mr. and Mrs. C. Brubaker, Dalehead, Mr. and Mrs. Mackay, Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mackay, Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dixon, Dalehead.

Mr. and Mrs. Kautz will reside on the Kautz farm, one mile south of Dalehead.

PREMIER BROWNE EN ROUTE TO OTTAWA

WINNIPEG—On their way to Ottawa and other eastern cities, Premier E. J. Brownlee and Mrs. Brownlee, of Edmonton, passed the day in Winnipeg. During the morning the premier paid a visit to the legislative building, calling on some of the cabinet members. His visit to Ottawa is in connection with governmental matters, the nature of which he did not reveal.

SEEK TARIFF INCREASE

WASHINGTON—The first move to increase the tariff on agricultural products came about with the sound of the gavel in the house today. A bill to increase the tariff on representative wheat, the Republic, South Dakota, to raise the import duties on various grains.

TWO REJINATIONS RECEIVED FROM SCHOOL STAFF

We regret to announce the resignation from the staff of Miss McMillan and Miss Cranston, to take effect at Christmas. We take this opportunity of wishing them both good luck and happiness.

Those who will take part in the Oratorical Contest on December 14th, and the subject chosen by each are: Mavis Sealey, "Canada Among the Nations"; Penny Prohberger, "The Peoples of Canada"; Alice Garrett, "The Unification of Canada"; Axel Frederick, "The Unification of Canada"; John Garrett, "Canada Among the Nations"; Sam Slater, "The Unification of Canada"; Campbell McDonald, "Economic Problems"; Muriel McDonald, "Canada Among the Nations".

The committee have purchased for each competitor a book, and in addition a medal for the winner.

We trust that a very large number will turn out and support these High School students in their efforts to fit themselves for good citizenship. During the month of December 10 pupils were in attendance at the school, of these 99 were present every day. The average was 178.52, and the percentage 92.9.

FAITH IN CANADA KEYNOTE IMPERIAL BANK ANNUAL MEET

TORONTO, Ont.—General prosperity and faith in future developments was the keynote of the address of Felix Howland, president of the Imperial Bank of Canada, at the annual meeting of shareholders.

Mr. Howland declared that the year had been a profitable one for bankers and the Imperial bank itself had set new high records. Bankers, he said, had found a profitable outlet for their surplus. He noted with gratification that the Imperial bank had paid its usual dividends with a bonus of one per cent. for the year.

"In the race for supremacy another bank absorption has recently occurred," he said. "This movement has surely nearly reached its end, but as far as it has gone it must have added to the likelihood of growth and the certainty of success for such institutions as ours."

The St. Lawrence Project Concerning the St. Lawrence project he said: "It would seem desirable, since we have gone to enormous expense to enlarge the Welland canal, that negotiations should begin as early as possible with the United States to bring about the completion of the outlet through the St. Lawrence."

Surplus differences between the Dominion and the two provinces as to the ownership of the river beds and between Ontario and Quebec as to the mode of development of power can be settled in the common interest of all.

"While it may not be that all the benefits claimed will accrue from the development, the movement of grain from the west will be at least hastened and the capacity to take care of an ever-increasing flow will be enlarged," proceeded Mr. Howland. "If, as is stated, the enormous development of electric power can be made to pay the total cost to this country one would think that the work should be begun with the least possible delay."

THE ANGLICAN BAZAAR WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL

The Anglican Bazaar was held on Saturday, December 3rd. The weather was very bad, which resulted in a much smaller crowd than anticipated. Many of the Anglican members being unable to be present.

In spite of this handicap, well over two hundred dollars was realized from the following stalls:

Home Cooking—Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Colpoys.

Candy—Alice Slater, assisted by Junior Communicants.

Fancy Work—Mrs. Chamberlain and Miss Marchant.

Aprons—Mrs. O. Wright.

Children's Stall—Miss Collins and Mrs. Slater.

The Dolls Stall, which was exceptionally good and showed evidence of much work—Mrs. Hyde, assisted by Junior Communicants.

The Pies, was in charge of Mrs. French and Mrs. Craddock, assisted by Mrs. Young and Mrs. Freeman. The waitresses being Mesdames Harvey and Mrs. N. Scher.

The bedspread was won by Mrs. Little; the doll by Miss Collins; the mug by Mrs. McFarland, and the cake by Mrs. Dunn.

The members of the Guild wish to thank all those who assisted in making the bazaar a success, for their generosity, and their effort in being present in spite of the bad weather.

By Mrs. Dunn.

CAKSELAND

C. E. Cole is on a trip to Saskatchewan during the past week.

Owing to the old Time House at Golden on the 7th, there will not be a local dance until December 16th.

James Hodges is the first to pay up his U.P.A. dues for 1928.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Forbes made a flying trip to Great Falls, Montana, Graham was on his way to the southern part of Alberta.

A large gathering of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Christensen on Saturday night to wish good luck to their daughter, who has joined the majority on the westward side with Alex Warwick. Their future address will be Keoma. Very many useful presents were on display. The host and hostess did ample duty for the occasion. Everyone was in a social spirit, and did justice to the evening.

Bob Holden and others visited the Manville district the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Brown will be retiring from business in a few days, the restaurant being leased by two brothers from Blackie.

Through a misunderstanding it was announced last week that George C. Cootes, the Federal member for Macleod, would speak at Carleton Place on December 5th. The date of the meeting is Wednesday, December 12th. Everyone should make a point to hear Mr. Cootes, who is a most interesting and well-informed speaker.

The annual meeting of the Ladies Aid will be held in the Church on Thursday, December 13th.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL OF CARSELAND REPORT

THE HERALD SUNSHINE FUND

The Sunshine Fund organized by The Calgary Herald in 1912, may be described as a romance in philanthropy. Year by year the total amount subscribed by generous contributors has increased, and with the augmentation of the fund the opportunity to assist the poor and deserving have developed in like proportion. More than 450 Christmas hampers were given away in 1927, while relief work has been carried on steadily throughout the present year. Every case of relief is checked up to establish its genuineness and to prevent imposition.

A feature of the expansion of the Sunshine Fund in recent years has been the support it has received from rural districts. In 1925 outside points to the number of 98 contributed 13 per cent of the fund. Last year 113 points outside Calgary subscribed the sum of $1,712.25 out of a grand total of $15,101.22, the record to date. All total amount subscribed in 1912 by all contributors was $2,644.25.

Generous assistance is given by the Sunshine Fund to all those in the country districts deserving of help. Large parcels of clothing are shipped to many points. It is reciprocity in a fine cause.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Strathmore Lodge, A.F. & A.M., held their election of officers on Monday night. The following were elected: W. M.—Bro. H. S. B. Chamberlain; F. W.—Bro. Jay Prince; V. W.—Bro. Harry Groves; Secretary—Bro. W. S. Patterson; Tyler—Bro. Fred Klinton. The scrutineers for the election were Bro. D. A. Perry and Hector McGregor.

PRINCE OF WALES HOME IN TEN DAYS

CAPE TOWN, South Africa.—The Prince of Wales expects to embark on the British cruiser Enterprise at Durban-Esplanade at 10 a.m. tomorrow, a dispatch received from there today said.

The route home to England now planned by the prince may bring him to London by December 11 or 12. A saving of 24 hours was hoped for in having the prince take a train from Saxa to Alexandria.

It was thought likely that the prince would reach Suez next Friday, Brindisi a week from Sunday and Paris a week from last Tuesday.

A FIVE-WHEELED CAR

The touring car came down to pass a primitive wagon, driven by a man in an "eek at Rip Van Winkle" one of the occupants of the car exclaimed. "Say, old man, did you ever ride in a car?"

"A fine car it was, but a five-wheeled one."

"What?" said the driver of the car. "Five wheels? What was the fifth for?"

"The steer wheel, of course," said the saying one as he whipped up his horse.

The following report was received by Trustees of the Consolidated School District No. 11 from the Secretary-Treasurer and Official Auditor:

In connection with the re-writing of the Book and Records of the School District, which was necessary after the fire of October 27th, we beg to report that with the assistance of the Bank's records and vouchers and the measure records remaining from the school safe, we have been able to properly record all the credit entries or receipts of the school district with the following exceptions:

Item, Jan. 4, 1928, $20.00, cash.
Item, Jan. 4, 1928, $20.00, cash.
Item, June 8, 1928, $20.00, cash.
Item, June 12, 1928, $8.65, cash.
Item, June 20, 1928, $79.45, cash.
Item, June 21, 1928, $117.15, cash.
Item, June 27, 1928, $20.00, cash.

As these items have either been paid in cash or by cheques, the names of the payees not being known, we are not able to make the proper application of the receipt of these amounts. These particular items are being further investigated, and we expect shortly to be able to apply them properly.

In connection with the expenditures and disbursements, we have been able to record these correctly without exception, and the record of disbursements now appearing in the cash book is a true statement of the disbursements to date.

The assessment roll has been re-written, and in so far as the rural property is concerned, is in order. With regards the village property, as the assessment is based differently from the rural property, we were unable to complete this assessment until such time as the Board had been able to meet and reset this assessment as previously. The entire record of the village assessment being destroyed, and neither myself or Mr. Laurie, the certain of the rate of assessment, had the work of the Board very quiet since passed through the books in the ordinary manner.

SPORT NOTES

ARNOLD ROTHSTEIN'S SUCCESS: Those who borrow big sums always settle.

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Harry Fink, who for many years was wet nurse to Jefferson Livingston, the "Picke King," expects to succeed Arnold Rothstein as the "big shot" in gambling circles along old Broadway. Now in the millionaire class, Fink is in a position to extend loans to the "gams" when they are down on their luck. Fifteen years ago "Uncle Harry" Fink was selling papers on the street of San Francisco. Ten years back he was selling jewelry and silk shirts to horsemen. With the $10,000 he saved he commenced claiming race horses, and proved a shrewd judge of a thoroughbred.

As betting commissioner for Rothstein, Livingston and other high rollers Fink got in on many "good things." He was content to play the "sure choice" to show, making many wagers by this method. And one morning he awakened to find he was a millionaire. Fink does not hesitate to lend his money to gamblers. He has found that the "gams" pay up when they strike a lucky streak. And they are willing to pay reasonable interest to those who add them in times of financial distress.

The word of a gambler plus about ten per cent interest is good enough to cause Fink to part with any part of ten "grand." When the same is paid back he is $1,000 ahead of the game.

"You won't find one gambler in a hundred running out on you," said Fink. "Therefore the percentage is all in your favor for making a loan. It's the boys who want to borrow from one slug to twenty berries that fail to come across on schedule time."

Teacher: "Tom, what is the difference between heaven and light?" Tom: "When our Ethel goes out in the evening she's a vision, but when she gets up in the morning she's a sight."

SPORTING NEWS

SANDE RIDES NASSAK

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—Earl Sande is going to ride in the 1929 Cofferth Handicap. He will be aboard his own horse—Nassak. Special permission has been granted Sande to ride in the $100,000 race by Stewards Nelson and Campbell.

Just when Sande will ship to Tijuana has not been decided. In all probability he will send the horse he is now campaigning in Maryland direct to New Orleans to race at Jefferson Park and during the first part of the meeting at the Fair Grounds. Then he will come west.

Hard work exercising his own horses has enabled Sande to reduce to 112 pounds. Being as hard as nails he desires to ride Nassak in the Cofferth. He wired the Tijuana stewards asking them for an opinion regarding his eligibility to perform and was told that everything would be okay.

There is a racing rule which prohibits trainers riding, but it is not generally enforced. This applies especially to Kentucky. For years Jack Howard both trained and rode the horses belonging to T. C. McDevall. Eddie Martin, a trainer, was also allowed to ride in violation of rules.

"Sande has a fine reputation," said Judge Nelson, "and for that reason special permission will be granted him to ride in any stake event at Tijuana this winter in which he desires to participate."

HE LOVES RACING

John E. Madden, America's greatest breeder, disturbed by rumors that he intended to retire from racing, hastens to inform the world at large that he intends to die with "his boots on." Those anxious to battle can get a real scrap readily by merely suggesting that the Master of Hanburg Place is ready to stop aida.

"I may have all the money I need for the pleasure of life," said Madden, "but that does not mean that I am going to live a life of ease. My greatest pleasure is being around race horses. I am practically through as a breeder, having retained only Sir Martin, chestnut son of Opden Lady Sterling, and am going to dispose of my farm, but you will find me about some race track every morning at 6 o'clock or perhaps a trifle sooner."

Madden is highly elated at the success of Sir Martin's get this season. This applies in particular to the two-year-olds, Healy, Rust, Tinner, Anna D. Lydia B. Farmer, Larkin, Happy Hours, Jean Bruce and Sealaway which youngsters by this sire which graduated from the maiden ranks.

"Just watch Healy in 1929," said Madden. "I am not much about passing around tips but here is something for those who love to make a little sentimental wager on the ponies. The horse which beats Healy to the wire in the Kentucky Derby next May will bring home all the money."

Madden is never happier than when engaged in some "kidding" match with his close friends. As for the few enemies he may have he is never around them, giving them a wide berth. Although he makes the race horse game to his willingness to sell a good horse "if always and my price," he stated, "and if I was offered enough I would dispose of any racer I ever bred. But you must remember," he added with a chuckle, "that I would also go out and pay a pretty stiff price for a thoroughbred."

Just how Madden looks upon wagering is best illustrated by a conversation he had in the paddocks at Saratoga this summer with Herbert Swope, editor of the New York World.

Swope, enjoying a vacation at the Spa, looked Madden up in the paddocks and made enquiries concerning the chances of one of the horses being saddled by the Master of Hanburg Place.

"How well do you like your horse?" asked Swope.

"I think he will win," replied Madden. "How much are you betting on him?" persisted Swope.

"Well, if you must know," replied Madden, who was slightly disturbed by the constant inquiries, "I have bet $200."

"Is that all?" questioned Swope. "I have all the money I need about back Madden," and I don't have to bet on race horses for a living. That $200 I'm betting is merely a sentimental wager. You will find that a person with brains can make more money attending to business than by betting on race horses."

And Editor Swope walked away without replying.

STRATHMORE U.F.W.A.

The bi-monthly meeting of the Strathmore U.F.W.A. was held at Mrs. Lew Bevel's on Wednesday, November 28th.

Several women turned out as the weather was nice.

Mrs. Schofield, of Crossfield, who was visiting Mrs. Harold Riddon at the time, came.

An interesting discussion took place about ways and means of enlarging the local and getting more pep into it. Each member is going to try to get at least one more member.

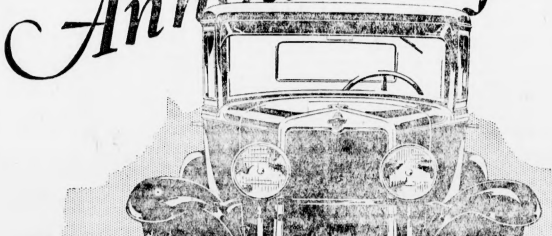

After the usual business, a delicious tea was served by the hostess, and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be on December 12th, at the home of Mrs. Froehberg, formerly occupied by Dr. Harries. Come and bring a friend.

Announcing -

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History

- a Six in the price range of the four!

THE Chevrolet Motor Company of Canada, Limited, announces The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History . . . a Six in the price range of the four!

Spectacular as Chevrolet's achievements have been in the past . . . notable as its engineering triumphs have proved themselves to be—this remarkable new car dwarfs every previous Chevrolet accomplishment. Not only does it introduce into the low-priced field an entirely new measure of performance, comfort, beauty and style—but it is sold at prices so low as to alter every previous conception of motor car value.

The new six-cylinder valve-in-head engine—developed from more than a hundred motors designed especially for this sensational car—stands out as an engineering masterpiece. With a power increase of approximately 32% over the previous Chevrolet motor, with sensationally greater speed, faster acceleration—it offers a type of performance that is literally astounding . . . even to those who have been driving cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

Throughout the entire speed range, it performs with a smoothness and quietness of operation that have never before been approached in a low-priced automobile. At the slower speeds of city traffic it idles along with wonderful silence and ease. On boulevards and country roads it responds with an eagerness that is a constant delight. It takes the longest and steepest hills with an abundant reserve of power that is a source of pride to the driver.

And its economy of operation averages better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

In appearance, this Outstanding Chevrolet is so smart, so stylish and so distinctively appointed that it rivals the costliest custom creations. The new Fisher bodies are longer, lower and roomier with adjustable driver's seat in all closed models—and reveal the matchless artistry of Fisher designers. You are cordially invited to visit our showrooms and secure complete and detailed information on this sensational new car which will be ready for delivery beginning January 1st.

I Saw Last Week

S. H. CROWTHER busy arranging the final details in connection with the 10th Union Oratorical Contest on Friday, December 14th. W. S. PATTERSON busy making arrangements for the big "Kiddies Frolic" on Friday, December 21st. W. N. WATSON chairing a big party to Calgary on Saturday morning, and he seemed very much pleased with himself. JIM MOHAN talking Dick Jenkins into giving him transportation to Calgary on Saturday. Just like taking care of a baby, said Jim. Easy, I'll say so. JOHN THE BULGARIAN side-stepping a good steady job for an industrious, energetic and enthusiastic worker, at which John claims he classes A, but of which Jack Bennett is not so certain. JACK BENNETT getting the orchestra to play a little longer at the Namaka dance. How did he do it? T. L. CHAMBERLAIN and PERCY WHITING enjoying themselves at the Namaka Dance. JOHN C. DAVIS, of Ardmore, making the positive statement that soon the mercury would register 80 below zero, and we would be lucky if it didn't go lower. He refused to state where, how, when and why he came to this conclusion, but Homer Nelson says John is absolutely wrong, and Homer is some-what of a prophet. HARRY MINER telling M. A. RELLINGER that when he lends money, he likes to get it back on Tuesday. Any other Committee would be glad to get it back any day, but Harry is getting awful particular. R. H. PATTEMORE reading the Standard where Dick Bailey had got seven ducks in one shot; now what do you know about that, said R. H. I'll bet they were tame ducks and that he shot them in the water, the next thing you will hear is that he is setting traps for them. PERCY PARISH busy translating a Chinese calendar on Saturday night; that's one of the benefits of being a good linguist. HECTOR MCGREGOR SET trying to buy a package of Buckington cigarettes at wholesale price; he claimed that he had more than one hundred in 1928, but Pattemore claimed he was 1927. They were still arguing when the Standard man had to go back to work. HARRY MINER, as the "show" champion, appearing to be effectively for more light to Mayor Shrimpton. DICK BAILEY asking that one or two lights be placed on Butler Boulevard for the benefit of the ratepayers in that subdivision, and the Survey Committee promised CONSIDERATION, but no lights. CHARLIE KELLING with a smile like a dusky Southerner, handing out his "black diamonds" when the thermometer dropped to 29 below on Saturday. "I hate to take the money," he moaned Charlie.

THE STANDARD DEVIL

Is very much disappointed that his appeal for "All Subscriptions To Be Paid Up" has fallen on none too favorable ground, and he is beginning to worry just whether there is a real Santa Claus. Look up your label, and if you are a defaulter, come across and make the Devil and all the rest of the staff happy.

If the Standard is not worth it, discontinue it; and if it is, be a good fellow and pay up—and be a real honest—to goodness SANTA CLAUS. Don't crowd! Atta boy—just two simoleons, please.

THANK YOU!

Mrs. H. A. Michaels, of Cascade, Montana, Mrs. N. L. Blumgren, of Milwaukee, South Dakota. Mrs. Saar was born in Kiel, Germany, and came with her parents to the state of New York, where she resided about three years, then came to Ontario, where she met and was united in marriage to Wm. Saar in 1879. In 1881 they moved to Wauwat, North Dakota, they being one of the first settlers there; nearest neighbor, being two miles away.

Coming to poor health, they came to Strathmore in 1909, and located on the farm four miles west of Strathmore, where they have since resided.

Mrs. Saar has been in very poor health for the past three years. The funeral took place at the home Thursday, November 29th at 1:30 p.m., Rev. Williams, of the United Church, officiating. Interment in Strathmore Cemetery.

The floral tributes were as follows: Mr. Saar, Mr. and Mrs. H. McLaughlin and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. McLaughlin and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Merrens and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Schultz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Saar and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miner, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. McClellin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Richardson. Contributed of a hockey player making a fortune through good judgement, and his case is dissimilar to some Maroon players, who lost heavily, notably in Abitibi pulp stock. The loss of Munro will be a serious one to Maroons as he was a steady influence, and a clear hard checking player vastly popular with the crowd.

Asked the kind old gentleman of young Jamie, one extremely hot day: "How is your dear grandpa bearing the heat?"

Answered young Jamie, same day: "Ain't heard yet. He's only been dead a week."

DUNC MUNRO RETIRES

MONTREAL.—Dunc Munro, the Scottish lad who came to Canada to become the greatest hockey finisher of all time, may never handle a stick again. Pneumonia and heart trouble, combined, to be induced by strenuous training methods to keep down excessive weight, and likely to cut short a career that would have ended this year, anyway.

Several weeks ago Munro announced he would retire at the end of this year. The greatest of hockey, who landed in Montreal four years ago carrying forty pounds excess weight, a pleasant smile, and a hockey reputation earned with the Canadian Olympic team, will pass out of the picture with half a million dollars to his credit.

Munro saved his hockey money, some nine thousand a year, and from that start invested it wisely in a rising stock market through four years. Becoming a smart ticker tape follower, he rode through with such stock as International Breweries, Canadian and down till International Nickel rolled into the view of the market, tied to International and rode into a half million. He expects to buy a seat on the Montreal stock exchange next year.

He is the first outstanding example

LIFE STORY OF MRS. DAVID McDONALD

BY DAVID ROSS

The experiences of Mrs. David McDONALD since her departure for Western Canada in 1879 to say the least are wonderful, and of a positive heroic type. Mrs. McDONALD was one of the earliest of early women pioneers to enter the vast unexplored plains of the west. She has lived amid the fiercest of savage Indians. She has fought the battle of starvation, and she has withstood the harshest temperatures, wrapped only in a few Hudson Bay blankets and Indian buckskin robes on the wind-swept prairie. In the heart of this wild country she mothered a family that do justice to her name.

She left the town of Guelph, in Ontario, in early September of 1879, and travelling a short distance by train a longer distance by stage coach, and then resorting to team and cart, she near the end of the month, arrived at Fort Garry. The Fort consisted of a Hudson Bay trading post, a separate place in which a few white people and half breeds dwelt.

During the following summer, in company with her husband, Mrs. McDONALD left her father's home at Bat Creek, and faced west. The two were alone, and while Mr. McDONALD drove a Red River cart, his wife drove a buckboard. They hoped to overtake their freighting outfit which had preceded them, which numbered some one hundred carts.

They experienced many anxious nights as a marauding band of Indians were in the vicinity. Each took turn at night to remain on watch while the other slept. On the way they rested for a day at Carlton House, and then set out once more for their destination, a small Fort known as Victoria, situated on the north Saskatchewan River, some miles further down the river from where Edmonton now stands. They arrived here about the middle of September, 1879.

Victoria was the first Methodist Mission in the Northwest Territories, having been established by the Rev. George McDONALD. When they arrived there they found Rev. John McDONALD and his sister (now Mrs. Young, of Edmonton) the only occupants of the mission; Mrs. John McDONALD having died earlier that year. Mr. and Mrs. David McDONALD remained here about a year, and in January, 1882, left Victoria for the Bow River, from which point it was hailed by team and cart. About this time the upheaval amongst the Indians resulted in the burning of a Hudson Bay trading post some sixty miles west of Calgary, and it was only the fidelity of the Stokies that prevented a life in Moosehide.

Mrs. David McDONALD's husband endeavored to be of some service to them in return for their protection. To do this it became necessary to organize large buffalo hunts in the fall in order to secure meat to tide over the cold winter months. They would accordingly secure the meat of three hundred to five hundred buffalo. Having had this dried into pemmican, he would serve out the meat to the Indians free of charge, for which they were grateful.

From early April of 1878 until July of 1879, Mrs. McDONALD was the only white woman in all that country from Edmonton in the north to Medicine Hat in the south. In fact, there was a white woman at the latter point. The reason for this was that the mission, Mrs. McDONALD and her family had left for Ontario, where they remained for a year. By this time the effect of the epidemic disease had been brought by the North West Mounted Police was beginning to be felt, as they had already arrived in the South, west part of Alberta about the year 1875. Calgary was located by the N.W.M.P. some years after Mrs. McDONALD had settled in the Bow River Valley.

Supplies were procured from Winnipeg and Fort Benton, Mon. from which point it was hailed by team and cart. The round trip required seven months, and provisions sufficient for eighteen months were usually brought. They would start for Winnipeg early in April and return late in October. After the return from Winnipeg the annual buffalo hunt would be organized.

David McDONALD was the first Free Trader in the west, and he would take his fare to Fort Garry, now Winnipeg, when he would go there to trade goods there each Spring.

In 1877, Mrs. David McDONALD had her first vacation. It consisted of a trip to Ontario by way of Fort Benton, Mont. They made the first stage of their journey by buckboard, and then proceeded down the Missouri river on a flat bottomed boat. A war party of many hundred Indians lurked in their rear, and it was only by the most careful strategy and vigilant watch that they finally evaded them, although they had been followed constantly for a week.

Their troubles with the Indians ceased shortly after the treaty made by Gov. Laird with the Indians had been signed. The regular rationing of food supplies ended their troubles. Mrs. McDONALD can still remember the thousands of Indian lodges assembled to treat with the government, and the vivid display of the North West Mounted Police excited her memory.

The next great event was the arrival in 1883 of the steel for the C.P.R. The surveyors had completed their work nearly three years before. With the advent of the railway the settlers felt that civilization had leapt in over night, although two years later occurred the Northwest Rebellion.

Mrs. McDONALD, who has always had great faith in the country through her fifty-eight years in the West, has for her motto: "Where there's a will there's a way." She has lived up to this old adage, and has triumphed for it. She at present lives in Calgary, and is as active and energetic for her country as she was when they came back in 1879, she set out for the then unknown West. She belongs to several clubs in Calgary, is president of the Southern Alberta Old Timer Association, and takes an active part in the social life of the community.

Surprise and much regret was expressed last week when it was learned that Miss McDONALD and Miss Cranston had tendered their resignations as teachers at the Strathmore school. Miss McDONALD is planning to go to the Coast, where she will enjoy a rest for some time. Miss Cranston will go on to California, to be with her mother, who has been in rather poor health recently.

Miss Kelly is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. Van Tighem.

Mr. Watson went up to Calgary Saturday last.

The many friends of Mrs. T. B. Harries, formerly of Strathmore, will be sorry to learn that she is suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism, and is confined to bed.

Victoria to Have an Old English Yuletide Festival

When old Thomas Tuxen, born fifty years before Shakespeare, wrote "At Christmas, play and make good cheer,"

For Christmas comes but once a year.

He made certain the success of "The Farmer's Daily Diet," a grandparent, of "Poor Richard's Almanac," filled with sober agricultural lore and sober maxims of thrift and honesty. Englishmen have tended to ignore to follow Tuxen's welcome advice, and have celebrated joyously the "Twelve Days of Christmas," except during the Reformation and under the regime of the Puritans when such festivities were frowned upon.

But remained for Dickens and Washington Irving in America to revive with their magic pens the old Yuletide spirit.

We on this continent have long fashioned our Christmas celebrations on the model of the old English Christmas, which we find memorably described in the writings of Dickens and Irving. But during the coming Christmas the festivities followed by six centuries of English tradition will come alive as never before; and for their setting they will have the city of Victoria, B.C., which has been called a "corner of England on the Pacific coast." Here, in the Empress Hotel, an Old English Yuletide Festival is to be held on Dec. 22. The holy and yet rosy celebration in English is to follow all flourish in Victoria, and will furnish the traditional setting for the revelling, the wax-making, the mumming, the Twelfth Night, the Yule-making, the other delights and the other delights.

Harold Kustace Key, director of Canada's major music festivals, is arranging the musical program for the night's concert at the Empress Hotel. He has in hand a representation of "Ward's Christmas Party," as immortalized by Dickens in the Pickwick Papers. This is to have a running competition of Yuletide music to set off the charming folkies of its lovely whimsical characters. Dr. Healy Wilton of the Toronto Conservatory of Music has composed for the occasion incidental music to "The Chester Maypole," a Christmas play selected from a group of medieval pageants which used to be enacted by the trade guilds of Chester, England, dealing with the twelfth century life of the shrovetide and the Babe of Bethlehem. The first performance of these festivities was in 1328, exactly six hundred years ago.

Father: "How is it, young man, that I find you kissing my daughter? How is it, young man?"
Frank Chickler: "Great! Great!"

She: "I can only be a—"
He: "Don't say it! It won't do. I have five sisters already, and, to tell the truth, they are not favorably disposed to you. They think a match with you would be the mistake of my life."

"Oh, indeed! I'll show the cats. They were about to attend a big dinner, and the husband gave her a few words of advice before starting."

"Just be yourself and everything will be O.K.," he said. "Don't try to be clever, whatever you do."

During the dinner, at a moment when the rich man's wife was resting her clasped hands on the table, there came a lull in the conversation.

"Awful pause," remarked the man by her side, with a smile.

"And so would yours be," snapped the other angrily. "If you worked at a washbasin all day for five years like I did before I was married."

A beary-eyed man entered a savings bank and hurried to the teller's window. "Let me have two cases right away," he said, pushing two fifty-dollar bills through the grating.

"What do you mean? Two cases of what?" replied the teller.

"Hanged! If I know what name you give it, but I saw a sign outside that said 'four per cent' and I'll drink whatever it is."

with straw, go as to deduce the noise of vehicles passing a certain house.

"What's that for, ma?" said the child, to which the mother replied: "The lady who lives in that house has had a little baby girl sent her."

The child thought for a moment, looked at the quantity of straw, and said: "Awfully well packed, wasn't she, ma?"

The Tumbler: "I can't ride a horse. I've never ridden one in my life."

Swanson: "That's all right. We're giving you a horse that has never been ridden, either."

"What are they playing?"
"Beethoven's Fifth Symphony."
"Goodness! Are we that late?"

"There's a bright girl. She's getting a man's wages."

"That so? Somehow I thought she wasn't married."

"I am expecting no packages due today," said the book-store manager.

"This is your number?" said the expressman, looking on the box.
"Your name's Johnson?"

"Yes."
"Then it's for you."
It must be a case of mistaken identity.

"I'm not concerned with what is in it, but it's yours."

A motorist has had to pay a fine for running over a pig. A warning to car owners not to treat pigs like ordinary pedestrians.

"Why are you divorcing your husband?"
"Well, the other night he was reading the paper and I slipped up and kissed him on his bald spot."

"Yes?"
"And he said, 'Quit playing, honey, and get out those letters I dictated yesterday.'"

The Scotch element of Calgary recently enjoyed a Scotch concert given over the radio. All the Marks, Jocks, Alecks, Sandys and Jimmies claimed it was the loveliest music heard over the radio for a long time. What made the concert even more pleasant was that the hat didn't pass around.

"Well, how is our patient today?" asked the doctor of a pretty nurse.

"Oh, very nicely, sir," she replied. "He wanted to kiss me this morning."

Professor: "Young man, I understand you are courting a widow? Ha, she given you any encouragement?"

Young man: "I'll say she has. Last night she asked me if I snored."

A Frenchman being troubled with the goat was asked what difference there was between that and the rheumatism. "One very great difference," replied the visitor: "suppose you take one view, you put your finger in it, you turn de screw till you hear him no longer—de is ze rheumatism—den, I pose you give him one more turn—zat is ze goat."

An Englishman, arriving at a town in the United States, asked the station master if there was any place where he could get a decent dinner.

"Come with me," replied the official, as he led him outside. "See that building?"

The Englishman nodded.

"Well, that's the parish church."

"But, surely," said the visitor, in astonishment, "you don't mean to say I can get a decent drink there?"

"Well, no," came the cautious reply. "I won't go quite so far as that. But it's the only place in the damned town where you can't."

Maize: "Gene says if he can get you under the mistletoe he'll kiss you."

THE EDUCATIONAL HANDICAP OF THE RURAL COMMUNITY

Professor A. E. Ottewill, who, some months ago, gave a most interesting address in the Memorial Hall, has a most instructive article in the Press Bulletin issued by the University of Alberta Extension Department upon the educational handicap of the rural community, which the Standard is publishing in part herewith.

Next week we will publish his views upon the High School problem, all of which merit the attention of every one interested in our school problems. The article has been full of interesting discussion centering round the so-called rural problem. Until 1912 the great social question was the city problem. Cities were defined as the respondents of society. Health and living conditions were bad. Cities were called the "dwellers of hell." A country family moving to the city was supposed to disappear in about three generations. Crime and immorality were bred in city slums. Booth's "Darkest England" was one work of a type. But with the report of Roosevelt's Country Life Commission made public in 1912, the emphasis shifted to a new social problem. Since that time writers have vied with each other in producing a mass of literature dealing with the so-called rural problem. This discussion is another tiny and unimportant contribution to the mass. The only excuse for its existence is that it is based upon thirty-nine years' experience in Western Canada, first as a member of a pioneer family and latterly for 16 years as a university extension worker.

1. Roosevelt report emphasized: (a) Depopulation of rural areas. Some districts in Eastern Canada and the United States have lost more than half their former populations.

(b) Unbearable living conditions or "Country Slums."

(c) Bad health and housing. Recently a representative of the Rockefeller Foundation speaking in this city showed that cities now have better health conditions than rural areas.

2. Causes: (a) Economic—country dwellers for various reasons were not receiving a reasonable reward for their efforts.

(b) Agricultural technique was shown to be inefficient and unsatisfactory.

(c) Unintelligent selection of areas to be settled was evident. An attempt had been made to farm land suitable only for forest reserves.

(d) Social conditions were shown to be unfavorable. Such rural institutions as the church were evidently on the decline.

(e) An educational handicap was very evident.

3. Now precisely what is a reasonable aim for the practical rural social worker? Surely the development of a happy and prosperous rural population. No one familiar with conditions would have the hesitation to assert that such an end has been reached. Nor is such a goal to be achieved by an intensified "back to the land." For a decade we have been treated as nations to exhortations from many themselves for the most part confined city dwellers—for people to move to the land. If life on the land is sufficiently satisfactory and attractive, there will be no need to urge people toward it. They will go there fast enough. Nor in fact are producers likely to be needed in such a percentage on the land as in the past or present. The basis of agricultural operations is now in the factory where modern farm machinery is made. The actual farmer holds only the outside line. It seems likely that when the present process of rapid industrialization is complete less than twenty-five percent of the working population will be needed to produce all the food required. For some time over that Mr. King would lose no chance of furthering his political fortunes, while Toronto's guest. Both leaders are astute politicians, as becomes them, and both of them would seize this opportunity of speaking to the duty of a king in power is to oppose.

But, when all is said and done, what is there to choose between our two great political parties more than the difference between oppose and oppose?

Mr. Bennett opposes Mr. King in order that Mr. Bennett may repose on the cushioned seats in the lap of Mr. Speaker and in the seat of authority.

Mr. King does not want to have his repose disturbed. "Get up and let me sit down" might well be Mr. Bennett's slogan: "I'm where I want to stay," Mr. King's. That sums up politics in Canada. Nobody means it when he brands the other fellow in politics as a politician and an enemy of his country. This big fellows in politics want office, preferment, power, and the delights of Ottawa. The little fellows in politics want jobs and favors.

some day the people will awake and see, we want efficiency and happiness; less law and more order. And when they see that, they'll get it.

In the meantime, the time-honored phrase of "Collins's" your friend, not Shovel will be repeated in a continuous performance with the principal numbers, actors King and Bennett.

It is becoming evident that events are shaping themselves in Canada in a battle between political giants. Both Mr. King and Mr. Bennett are men of no mean stature. They tower above their fellows. Sometimes they seem to tower above themselves. Each is a foeman worthy of the other's steel. Usually, when speaking of each other, politicians, spell the last word of the preceding sentence with an s in it—"the other's steel." And steel seems to be the right word in this connection. Each of our national political leaders is trying to steel the other's thunder. Mr. King is proclaiming prosperity; announcing that we have it here and now, all of course under the benign reign of the party he leads. Mr. Bennett is denying that prosperity is here but declaring his "profound conviction"—as he himself put that—only by the return of his party to power can Canada hope to achieve prosperity. This applies to almost every item in the two leaders' programmes.

Whatever one says is right the other says is wrong. Mr. Bennett believes in the old political adage that "the duty of an opposition is to oppose." Mr. King is convinced that the duty of a king in power is to oppose.

But, when all is said and done, what is there to choose between our two great political parties more than the difference between oppose and oppose?

Mr. Bennett opposes Mr. King in order that Mr. Bennett may repose on the cushioned seats in the lap of Mr. Speaker and in the seat of authority.
